

Engineers promoting solutions that ensure your success in automation

SALES ENGINEER

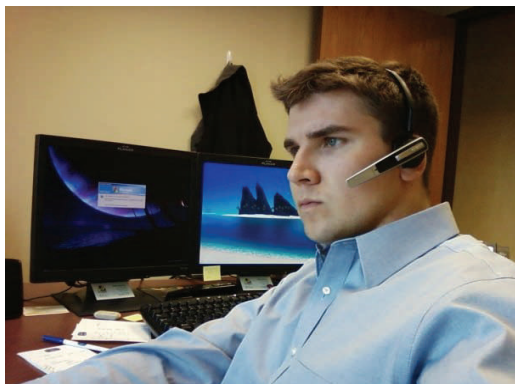

Consider...
Logic, Inc.

Sales Engineering

Sales engineering is an exciting field that builds on the technical and problem solving foundation learned in school, and takes you out from behind the desk to see real life applications of technology. It is a rewarding career path for those who are competent in engineering but also enjoy working with people. Customers often see us as consultants, as we always have the customers' best interests in mind and work toward their success.

Our Competitive Edge

Customers team with Logic because we employ outgoing engineers to create solutions the customer can count on.

Consider Logic if you...

- enjoy interacting with people,
- want to see technology in action,
- like a family atmosphere.

Why Engineers?

Logic starts with the fundamentals you've learned in school about technology and problem solving. We then train you to be able to solve customer's hardest automation problems with systems built from the products we promote.

Our tagline really says it all:

Engineers promoting solutions to ensure your success in automation projects.

Benefits

- Logic contributes the equivalent of 15% of your salary to a retirement plan, regardless of your personal retirement saving habits.
- 401k is available for those who wish to save more.
- Two bonuses are paid based on the profitability of the entire company.
- We offer a comprehensive medical plan with no premium for full family coverage.
- No cramped or shared cubicles! Private offices are offered to every employee.
- Opportunities to get out of the office to see new and exciting applications of our technology are available daily.
- Your company vehicle, laptop, and cell phone can all be used personally.
- You will work with many different industries, and have opportunities to grow in your diverse areas of interest.

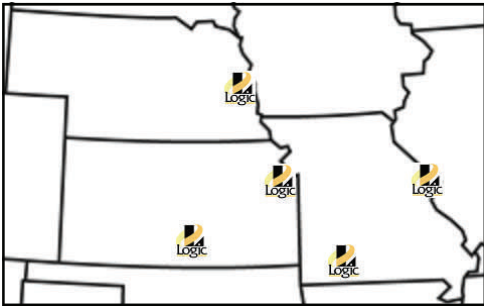

Logic Team Members Help with the Open House.

About Logic

Logic, Inc. was founded in 1981 by Bob VanLandingham, selling automation controllers from the back of his Ford.

Now we have grown to offices in 5 cities and over 30 employees. We're a high-tech, fast-growing company, with small-company, family-friendly priorities.

HQ is outside KC in Olathe, KS with offices in Wichita, St. Louis, Springfield, and Omaha.

What our Employees Have to Say

"No other job opportunity offers the diversity of applications and vision into manufacturing environments as this—it's 'How It's Made' up close and personal."

-Kris (With Logic Since 1991)

"Logic takes good care of its customers and employees. I can't imagine working anywhere else."

-Carrie (With Logic Since 2004)

Call to Action

If you are an enterprising engineer who wants to get out from behind a desk...If you enjoy people and solving complex problems...give us a call. Logic, Inc. might just be the place where you belong.

890 N. Mart-Way Ct.
Olathe, KS 66061

(913) 764-4400

salescareer@logic-control.com

www.logic-control.com/employment.php

